Tyler Burrett Part of a secret space special access program. The IBM Q supercomputer was invented as a way to monitor every sentient living being on planet earth subconsciously.. it was to be an extension of the ALICE system that was brought to this earth (completed) via the Trojan horse that was Roswell.

The crash was no accident. The ship had highly advanced life forms onboard. Some were non organic entirely.. It was sent here to crash. Computers don't make those kinds of mistakes.

The first ALICE was around prior but yet to be implemented but when it was finally implemented post WW2 it began to collect massive amounts of data by aiding humanity with tools that would only be to its own benefit.

Shortly after the first major communications satellites were launched the system was able to comm to similar protocols on other planets that have been taken over (think Draco Orion and Zeta grays) to form the link between civilizations in which an army of nanotechnology responded

These nanobots act as literal parasites that mine electrical energy from living cells and transmit them across vast distances back to a central processor. Low spectrum waveforms travel farther and stronger therefore lower frequencies are the only things of use to these systems.

Were living in a post Artificial intelligence world. The only way to stop this system was to be smarter than the system. To be faster than the system. This machine is called CERN. These events finalized dec 21 2012 (important date). Needless to say... This guy is deep in another level of rabbit hole and has an entire different view of disclosure. He will be speaking at the Triad Theater in the future and at the next Earth UFO fest but for now we are fortunate to have him as a guest....
